

all in this area collapsed and was rebuilt, a described stones were uncovered. They are now this area with their reference note - where the an be matched to the records. The details are at the appropriate place in the text - with a note.

Headstones without a reference are unavailable and hence cannot be matched to the records. Small stones (shown hollow) are plot markers or are marked only with letters - making reference unreliable.

The plot numbers shown are taken from the official records (they show the plot position - the main survey map is not necessarily the plot plan. When there is a significant difference, the number is shown in brackets.)
